

State Record On Reading Is Set by James Thos. Harp

Grades of the Elementary School Lead the Entire State in Number of Books Read

HARP BOY READS 60

Work in Grades, Directed By Miss Fronabarger, Is Set As Example For State

James Thomas Harp of Canyon set a state record for students in the elementary grade for the largest number of books read last year. He read 60 books, which was far above the average of the state.

The entire student body of the elementary grades in the Canyon Schools lead the state in the number of books read.

This information was given Supt. Irby Carruth by the librarian of the University of Texas, who receives reports from all schools of the state.

The system of reading as directed in the Canyon elementary school by Miss Elva Fronabarger is being used as a model for the state of Texas by the librarian of the University, and will be presented to all schools of the state.

James Thomas Harp is the son of Postmaster and Mrs. Guy Harp and devoted his spare time to reading.

Mr. Carruth was greatly pleased with the reading record which was made in the schools last year. Wide publicity will be given the reading of the elementary department by the library association, and the Canyon schools are expected to greatly profit by this record.

Dr. Ben Wood Talks of Schools at Rotary Luncheon Tuesday

Dr. Ben D. Wood of Columbia University spoke Tuesday at the luncheon of the Rotary Club. Dr. Wood is giving a series of lectures each morning at 9:00 o'clock at the Education auditorium to which local people are invited by President J. A. Hill. In introducing Dr. Wood Tuesday, Mr. Hill stated that the schools were attempting to give educational guidance to the pupils, and to assist boys and girls in selecting their vocations.

Mr. Wood is a native Texan, but has been in Columbia with the research department for several years. Schools have found that children differ in mentality just as they differ in physical ability, and are now trying to fit the needs of the institutions to the needs of the children. Educators find that the child is not made wrong, but each one needs different treatment. To this end work in the schools is being planned to make of each child the best possible citizen.

The schools, according to the speaker, are seeking to determine the ability of each child, and to fit his work to the ability that he shows to possess.

"Your local school can be no better than the public opinion of the community will allow it to be," stated the speaker.

"There are more trustees in the nation than there are teachers," stated Dr. Wood, as he deplored the leadership in many of the schools. He called for an intelligent and unselfish guidance on the part of the trustees and on the part of the citizens. Only the army and navy exceed the public schools in the expenditure of public funds, and to get the most for this money requires the intelligent co-operation between the home and the school; between the public and the school.

Visitors were: M. C. Burton, W. A. Askew, John McCarty, all of Amarillo; Bill Kerr of Tucumcari; C. W. Wedgeworth of Snyder; Rev. Chas. Wilson of Canyon.

Topping Job Highway No. 33 Completed on Monday

Topping on Highway 33, west from Canyon to the Deaf Smith county line, was completed Monday and the construction crew left Tuesday for Lamesa where another topping job will be started.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Coleman visited with friends near Oklahoma City over the week end.

Grasshopper Poison Free to Citizens

Additional poison for grasshopper control is to be made available within the next few days, according to a telegram received Tuesday at the County Agent's office.

The poison on hand, which is being distributed free of charge, is thought to be sufficient to take care of immediate needs. Farmers who desire to kill the "hoppers" are urged to call for poison as soon as possible before more damage is done to row crops and gardens.

Poisoning grasshoppers in town is not to be encouraged except where absolutely necessary, owing to children and pets.

Bill For Purchase Land to President

Measure Gives Power to Buy Location for Dams and Lakes

A bill under which the federal government may purchase marginal land was agreed upon Friday by congress and is now on the desk of President Roosevelt. Under the terms of this bill, land for building lakes and dams in the dust bowl may be purchased by the government.

It is believed that President Roosevelt will sign this bill this week, which will remove the last barrier in the way of building Buffalo Dam south of Umparger and other conservation projects in the Panhandle.

Congressman Marvin Jones conferred with the President Saturday in regard to the entire farm program, which includes conservation measures.

Carl Hinton is still in Washington, and as soon as the President acts upon this measure, he will then confer with Harry Hopkins and other authorities in Washington regarding starting work on the project. Money for building the dam will come from the relief measure which passed congress three weeks ago, and which has been signed by the President.

John McCarty, president of the Panhandle Conservation Authority, while here Tuesday stated that everything seems to be working out in very fine shape, and he believes that dams and lakes will soon be authorized for the Southwest.

Mr. Hinton will remain in Washington until he secures the actual designation of funds for the major projects which have been approved for this section. Army engineers are expected to be in this territory about the first of August to continue surveys which were recently made by other government engineers.

W. A. Warren, vice president of the Conservation group, stated Tuesday that while nothing definite (Continued on last page)

William Ash Hurt In Six-Foot Fall Last Week

William Ash, former resident of Umparger who now lives in Amarillo, was injured last week when he stepped from his car after it had been raised 6 feet in the air by hydraulic jacks in an Amarillo garage. Mr. Ash was not aware that the car had been raised when he stepped out.

Both arms were broken by the fall, one rib broken and he received a cut on the lip. Mr. Ash is a pioneer wheat farmer of the Panhandle.

Trade Journals of Nation Print Essay of Melvin Callahan

Melvin Callahan of the FFA club in the Canyon school won a trip to Dallas last fall by writing the best essay in the State of Texas on "Why Is Quality Cream Necessary?"

Since this essay was printed in Texas, it has been reproduced in 11 national trade journals in the United States. These journals are printed in every section of the United States and gave wide publicity to the FFA work in the Canyon public schools.

Sewell Cox left Tuesday for Keene, N. M., where he will be in charge of the stables and instructor in riding in a girls' summer camp for the next six weeks.

Mrs. Carl Laughery was taken to an Amarillo hospital Monday for treatment. She will probably undergo an operation by the end of the week.

.75 of Inch Rain Falls Tuesday Eve

Moisture Will Be of Great Aid to the Row Crop In County

Rain fell all over the county Tuesday evening, amounting to .75 of an inch in Canyon, and varying in amounts over the county.

The rain came at the time when the row crop was badly needing the moisture. While the average on row crop is smaller than usual this year, the quality of the early planted crop is reported generally to be good. Weeds are bad in the late planted crop as the rain came just as the farmers were very busy in their wheat harvest.

The hottest weather of the year has maintained throughout the past week. The mercury ran up to 108 degrees Thursday, 102 on Friday, 100 on Saturday, 104 on Monday.

Grasshoppers are reported to be working in some parts of the county, but not nearly as bad in this section as in the counties to the east and west of Randall.

Mrs. Hays Died at Home of Daughter; Near Age 92 Years

Funeral services for Mrs. Cassie M. Hays, pioneer resident who died early Tuesday morning, were held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church. Rev. Charles L. Dickey, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Paris, officiated.

Mrs. Hays, widow of John P. Hays, was 91 years old at the time of her death. She was born September 13, 1845 at Smithville, Miss., and settled in Canyon 24 years ago. She was a member of the Baptist church.

Pallbearers were Floyd Dunaway and Dr. E. J. Cundiff of Canyon, George Grogan, Clarence P. Smith, Earl R. Irwin, and John Frank Wright of Amarillo.

Mrs. Hays is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mattie V. Dunaway of Canyon, and Mrs. Mary June Hare of Kansas City; two sons, John P. Hays of Clifton, Ariz., and James W. Hays of Escondido, California; one grandson, Floyd V. Dunaway of Canyon, and four granddaughters, Mrs. E. J. Cundiff of Canyon, and Mrs. George Grogan, Mrs. Clarence P. Smith, and Mrs. Earl Irwin of Amarillo.

Mrs. Hays is survived by 15 grand children; 21 great grandchildren; 1 great great grandchild.

Mrs. E. G. Doran of Shreveport visited her sister, Mrs. C. P. Overton this week.

Mrs. Wm. Dawes and daughter of Lovington, N. M., are visiting at the parental J. L. Duflet home.

Postoffice Building Occupied

Wheat Harvest In County Is Very Nearly Completed

More Cars of Wheat Are Shipped This Year Than Last; Crop Is Lighter Than Expected

Practically all the wheat in Randall county has been harvested.

A few farmers state that it will be a week yet before they are finished, but most of the combining was ended before the rain fell Tuesday night.

The price has continued good throughout the week, running as high as $1.08 per bushel, although the market dropped considerably on several days.

Elevators report that a little more wheat has been handled this year than last, although the exact number of cars to be shipped from the county has not yet been determined.

Most of the wheat that has been received during the past week has been pretty well filled with weed seed. The wheat crop as a whole has been a great disappointment this year to a majority of the farmers, as the yield has been much less than was anticipated.

Oil Tests To Be Made on Randall County Farms

Oil tests are to be made on south border sections of Randall county in the interest of the Stanoline Oil and Gas Company of Midland, it was announced last week. Seismograph tests are to be made on the O. H. Rahfs and Walter Stubblefield farms.

A drilling crew with three separate sets of equipment are at work in the immediate vicinity of Happy in preparation for a geophysical survey for Stanoline. Wells are being drilled to the water level on each alternate section line making the wells about two miles apart. The wells will be shot and seismographic tests made.

Jones Has Bill on Future of Farming

Congressman Marvin Jones of this district, chairman of the House Agricultural Committee, introduced a bill in congress Tuesday which embraced the "ever-normal" granary and crop production control features.

The bill would use the present soil conservation benefit payments and penalty processing taxes as machinery to effect crop control.

It would give the secretary of agriculture authority to establish a marketing quota for all producers of such products as corn, wheat, cotton, tobacco and rice. Farmers who sold more than their quota would be denied soil conservation benefit payments, which last year totalled approximately $400,000,000.

When the granary threatened to over-flow, the secretary would have authority to establish processing taxes on the products of which there was an oversupply.

The tax would be as follows: Cotton, two cents a pound; wheat, ten cents a bushel; rice, ten cents a bushel, and 25 cents a hundred pounds on hogs when there was an oversupply of hogs.

Five Canyon Youths In College Station Taking NYA Course

Five Randall County youths were among the 500 Texas farm boys and girls selected for part time employment on a National Youth Administration Work Project on the campus of four Texas colleges, J. C. Kellam, Texas Youth Director, announced this week. They left Friday for the colleges.

Randall County young people who are members of the Panhandle delegation are Jack W. Smith of Route 2, Happy; Roy R. Cofer, Jr., of Canyon; Frederick M. Spiser of Route 2, Happy, and Lula and Luella Spiser, both of Route 2, Happy.

The boys and girls were selected from various sections of Texas for this employment because of their interest in farming. They will work part-time during the next six weeks making improvements on the campus of Texas A. & M. College, North Texas Agricultural College, John Tarleton Agricultural College and Prairie View Normal.

Farm boys from North and West Texas are working at North Texas Agricultural College at Arlington. Farm girls were sent to John Tarleton College at Stephenville. Boys from East, Central and South Texas were sent to Texas A. & M. College. Negro youths were sent to Prairie View.

The boys will have work experience in improving farm structures and fields. In their spare time they will be given instruction in poultry management, beef cattle judging, dairy cattle practices, garden and orchard work, crop production and agricultural engineering.

The girls will have work experience in housekeeping, dairying, poultry raising, and household improvement. In their spare time they will study poultry management, dairying, garden and orchard work, rural home management, budgeting, and health and hygiene.

Checking '37 Compliance Will Start In Next Few Days

Checking compliance under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program will start within the next few days according to information received at the County Agent's office.

Letters are being mailed to all operators this week in order to ascertain those who made compliance this year. As soon as answers are received to these letters, farms will be divided among supervisors for checking. It is thought that checking will be easier this year, owing to measurements being established on most farms last year.

County Agent W. H. Upchurch and members of the County Committee attended a meeting with officials of the State and Washington office in Amarillo on Tuesday for the purpose of receiving recommendations for the 1938 program and to outline rules for the 1937 compliance.

County Agents Are Told of Agriculture Plan by Cobb

County Agent W. H. Upchurch attended a meeting in Amarillo Tuesday in which C. A. Cobb, southern director of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration discussed the plans for the future.

Another meeting of farmers will be held next Wednesday to advise regarding pending legislation.

Practically all who attended the meeting Tuesday were of the opinion that the wheat acreage this fall would be larger than for 1937, and in which case it was feared that the price would be driven down by an over production. Handling this situation is the purpose of legislation now pending in congress.

WOMAN HELD IN JAIL ON CHARGE OF THEFT

Mrs. Olive Platneur was arrested Friday on the charge of theft of clothing at the John Weyan home. She is awaiting the action of the grand jury which meets the first week in August.

The woman and her husband worked at the Weyan place for a short time. The man has not been located.

SISTER DIES

Mrs. Herbert Miller of near Dawn, sister of Miss Vera Crawford of Canyon, died Saturday at her country home. Funeral services were held Monday.

New Building Is Opened Tuesday Morning for Use

$65,000.00 Post Office Is Placed in Use After Delay In Receiving the New Fixtures

KEYS TO ALL BOXES

Many Citizens of Canyon Visited New Postoffice For First Time Tuesday Morning.

The new $65,000 postoffice building was occupied Monday night, and mail distributed at the new building Tuesday morning.

Some of the new equipment is still missing, but authority was received Monday to transfer enough of the old equipment to the new building so that the mail could be handled without inconvenience.

All boxes in the new postoffice have keys rather than combinations, and this will probably cause considerable confusion on the part of the patrons for some time, as many will forget to bring their keys to the new building.

Equipment in the old office will be removed at once. The government leases its boxes and other equipment, and the holding company has been urging the move since the first of July as it has calls for the old equipment. S. B. Orton, owner of the building where the postoffice has been located for many years, states that he has not yet rented the building.

Many citizens of Canyon had not been in the new building until the mail was transferred there Tuesday morning. Those who entered the building for the first time expressed great surprise and satisfaction in the finish of the building and the new equipment that had been installed for the service of the public and the convenience of the employees of the office.

A few minor details are yet incomplete on the building, but these will be finished as soon as equipment is received. R. H. Richter, contractor, was here Saturday and states that he will be back in about two weeks to make a final check on the building, and to complete the small amount of work that is lacking.

Mrs. Irene Beckett Exhibits Work At Wayside

An exhibit of the work of Mrs. Irene Beckett of Canyon was held at the Wayside school Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Beckett is a graduate of West Texas State Teachers College and has attended art colonies each summer since her graduation in 1934. She has taught public school drawing two years and assisted in the Palo Duro School of Art both last summer and this.

Her pictures have been exhibited in several Texas towns including Denton, Austin, Wichita Falls and in the Panhandle Plains museum here.

MAN IN JAIL CHARGED WITH THEFT OF MAGNETOS

N. M. Michael was arrested Thursday at his home in Amarillo charged with the theft of two magnetos from combines at the Roger Gist home. Michael was in that section of the county Wednesday selling oil.

Officers found the magnetos hidden in a pile of straw after a thorough search had been made of the premises.

Michael is in jail awaiting the action of the grand jury the first of August.

Is the Democratic Party doomed? Many political observers believe that the bitter fight being staged in congress over the President's court reform bill will split the party so badly that the bitterness of the present campaign will not heal. That would be very unfortunate for Democracy, and would probably be the end of the party. While many political writers have boasted that the Republican party is dead, they overlook the fact that 16,000,000 votes were cast for a weak candidate last year. Some of the Democratic opposition to the President's reform measures is without doubt from those within the Democratic party who would like to wreck Roosevelt, and seek to forestall his chances for nomination in 1940. Much of the opposition is genuine, and comes from senators who are honest in their belief that the court reform measure is entirely wrong. With the two-thirds rule rejected for the 1940 convention, the Solid South will not wield the powerful influence that it has in the past, and 14 thickly populated northern states, containing the big cities, will rule Democracy. These states are largely controlled by labor, which in the main is opposed to the welfare of the agricultural South and West. Interesting things will happen politically during the next four years. If you are politically minded, you will no doubt see the most interesting events in the history of this nation. New alignments are under way. Some of them will not mature, but enough will come about to keep all citizens on their political toes during the coming three years.

Six constitutional amendments will be voted on in Texas on August 23. One of the amendments provides for a return to the old fee system of payment of county officers. When the amendment was proposed, it was stated that the big counties of the state wished a return of the fee system. But now comes Harris county—the largest county in the state—with a plea of the commissioners court to defeat the proposed amendment. The auditor of Harris county is quoted in the Dallas News of Sunday that the salary system is working much better than the old fee system. In counties less than 20,000 population, the old fee system continues. Before the fee system for the big counties was abolished, all kinds of graft and misuse of public funds were exposed. To return to the old system would certainly be a return to these same charges. Why not give the new salary a chance to be worked out before returning to a system which was so generally condemned?

A merry battle rages around the $22 state apportionment which was set last week by the State Board of Education. The State Automatic Tax Board, composed of the Governor, the State Comptroller and the State Treasurer, is supposed to set the state tax rate before this is printed, and if these men carry out their threat, they will reduce the school tax rate so as to refuse to increase the apportionment to $22. The charge is made that the schools will add more courses instead of improving the ones they are now offering. Regardless of the charges and counter charges, the legislature should definitely determine who shall set the state apportionment.

Various comments are being made by those on the outside as to the fate of the court reform bill pending in the Senate. The death of Senator Robinson, and the expressed opposition of Representative Hatton Summers have greatly encouraged the opposition. The question naturally arises: Is not President Roosevelt too good a politician to allow his pet measure to be whipped on the floor of the senate when he could have it withdrawn through technical procedure? Close observers in Washington are still of the opinion that the President has the necessary votes to pass the bill, and will do so after the senators get through talking.

Emil Ludwig, driven out of Germany because he is of Jewish parentage, has come to this country to write the life of President Roosevelt. His first investigation leads him to state that the President is the worst hated yet the best loved man in America. His enemies are among the rich, whom Roosevelt is trying to throttle and force to pay their just part of running the government; his friends and admirers are those who realize that he is the greatest friend the poor man ever had in the White House, and that he is trying to help those who have been unable to help themselves.

The farmers have been so accustomed to having the price of their commodities set arbitrarily by the gamblers that they will not know what to do should the Elcher-McAdoo bill become a law. The bill fixes the prices on basic farm products. Farmers will be able to make money on their crops; speculators will be forced out; consumers will be benefitted; surpluses and exports will be controlled. It is said from Washington that the bill has a good chance to pass.

Al Smith remains quiet since his famous walk. Not even the unfortunate death of Senator Joe Robinson, his skilled running mate in 1928, was not sufficient grounds for Smith to express his appreciation of Senator Robinson.

MAC

All That Effort Wasted

By Boughner

YES, INDEED!

Albert Cooper, editor of the Shamrock Texan and president of the Panhandle Press Association, exposes the fallacy of sponsored radio programs by a bunch of amateurs in the following editorial:

One thing that gives us a pain in the neck are these advertiser-sponsored radio broadcasts from Amarillo, Fort Worth and Dallas, where in the chamber of commerce from Memphis, Shamrock, Plainview or some sister city, presents some home talent music, followed by a speaker, who gives you the number of churches, the kind of schools, number of bales of cotton grown, and the average rainfall of his home town. He tells you the number of people living there, the number of miles of paved streets, the number of cotton gins, the number of retail stores, and a number of other things, including the water, light and gas rates, and how tall the water tower is.

The civic club quartet then sings another number, the station announcer tells you the number of retail stores, and a number of other things, including the water, light and gas rates, and how tall the water tower is. The civic club quartet then sings another number, the station announcer tells you the number of retail stores, and a number of other things, including the water, light and gas rates, and how tall the water tower is.

Why a small town chamber of commerce will spend fifteen, twenty or thirty dollars to send a group of entertainers to an Amarillo, Fort Worth or Dallas radio station to help advertise a product they neither use or know, is a question we wish somebody would answer. Radio operators may try and tell you it advertises your town and causes people to want to move there, but we would like to see in the living flesh any man, woman or child who ever moved to a town on account of any chamber of commerce program sponsored by the overall or cough syrup manufacturers.

Ten years ago it was a novelty and an honor to appear on a radio broadcast, but it is no longer. To find an amateur entertainer of any merit at all who has never appeared on a radio program is the exception rather than the rule. And as far as news value is concerned, a picture of a man or woman entertainer of ability who has never sung or played in front of a microphone would merit front page space in anybody's newspaper, as being most unusual and out-of-the-ordinary. It would almost rate Ripley's column.

As a matter of fact, nobody listens to these home-town programs except the neighbors and friends of the person appearing on the program. If the radio operators want to give their advertisers a more complete coverage of the particular territory, why don't they rent the home town school auditorium, rather than put it on the air and cause the home town chamber of commerce and the parents of these entertainers to spend a lot of dough that is needed at home?

The death of Senator Joe Robinson is the most severe shock that President Roosevelt has sustained during his administration. No one has stood by the President as loyally and as efficiently as has the Senator from Arkansas. Just what effect his unfortunate death will have upon the administration remains to be seen. Coming as it did at a most critical time while the court bill was under consideration, Robinson's passing will be a most severe blow to the New Deal program.

The recklessness and daring of Amelia Earhart cost the government several million dollars in the vain search by the navy. Lives of all naval airmen who flew over the waters in the search, were subjected to dangers. Yet it is all in the day for the navy. Had the men not been employed in this manner they would have been in some other sort of maneuver, equally as expensive for the government and probably nearly as dangerous for the men engaged.

Business men no longer fear general strikes. While John Lewis and his C. I. O. are still very active, they realize that they have overstepped all bounds of reason and are much more cautious than they were a few weeks ago. By fall the natural strike season will be nearing an end. Labor flurries and snow flurries do not go together.

One person is killed in this nation every 15 minutes by the means of automobile wrecks. Yet the public is little impressed. If it were known in advance just which American would be the next victim, careless driving would be at a minimum. Drive carefully. Your turn may be next.

The ill-fated trip of Amelia Earhart brought to the minds of many people the unfortunate death of Will Rogers. Both were attempting uncharted air trips when disaster met them. The day of stunt flying should be ended. The percentage against the flyer is entirely too great to take the risk.

Pity the poor newspaper man. During nine or ten months of the year he is snowed under with news and more news. Then summer comes, and the news drouth hits, and the newspaper man has a fight on his hands to find something interesting for his newspaper.

Even Uncle Sam has his troubles: Witness the fact that the Canyon postoffice building was completed July 1st, but some of the equipment has been held up more than 20 days.

Life may begin at 40, but characters begin at 4 and habits at zero.

Those who start late in the morning trail the clock all day.

Too Much Talent Presents Real Problem as Fans Vote for All-Star Grid Team

BY IRVING DIX

JUST offhand it might be said that folks aren't thinking in terms of football these days. What with base hits and double plays still occupying the center of the sportive stage, yet fans the nation over now are engaged in the production of the grid-iron's annual pre-season extravaganza — the College All-Star Professional Champion contest at Soldiers' Field, Chicago, scheduled this year for Sept. 1.

The game, fourth yearly affair of its kind, brings together a picked team of All-Americans who finished their collegiate careers last fall, and the Green Bay Packers, champions of the National Pro League in 1936.

Players and coaches of the collegiate eleven are chosen by the fans on the basis of a national poll. Balloting for the players started July 11, and will continue until July 25, while votes for the coaches, consisting of a staff of five, will pour in from July 25 to Aug. 8.

With a large and brilliant crop of all-stars available, the ballots sent in by the fans are expected to make the selection a spirited affair. The 11 men who receive the highest number of votes at their respective positions will start the game, but the coaches have the privilege of making substitutions from the reserve material as they see fit.

FOR quarterback and mastermind of the all-stars, any one of a dozen can be chosen without weakening the team. Heading the list is All-American Sammy Baugh of Texas Christian, considered the stand-out forward passer in the nation a year ago. Vern Huffman of Indiana, Ed Goddard of Washington State and Bud Wilkinson of Minnesota are others who should receive plenty of support.

Clarence (Ace) Parker of Duke, Ray Buivid of Marquette, Lloyd Cardwell of Nebraska, and Ken Sandbach, Princeton, are a quartet of stellar halfbacks, but it's hard to disregard such men as Monk Meyer of Army; Julie Alfonse, Minnesota; John Drake, Purdue; Bobby Larue, Pitt, and Bob Wilkie, Notre Dame.

Big Sam Francis no doubt will pile up a lot of votes for the full-back post, but should be closely pressed by Don Geyer and Steve Toth of Northwestern, and Ed Jankowski of Wisconsin.

Larry Kelley, Yale's loquacious leader; Gaynell Tinsley, Louisiana State; Merle Wendt, Ohio State, and Matt Patanelli, Michigan, are four of the leading end candidates.

Dr. Golden To Join Business Staff Next Session

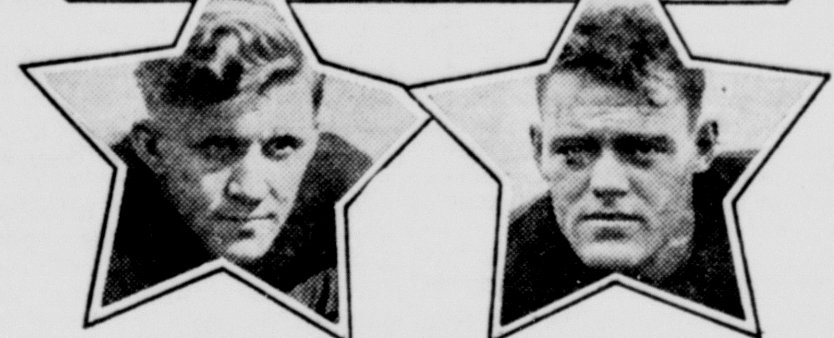

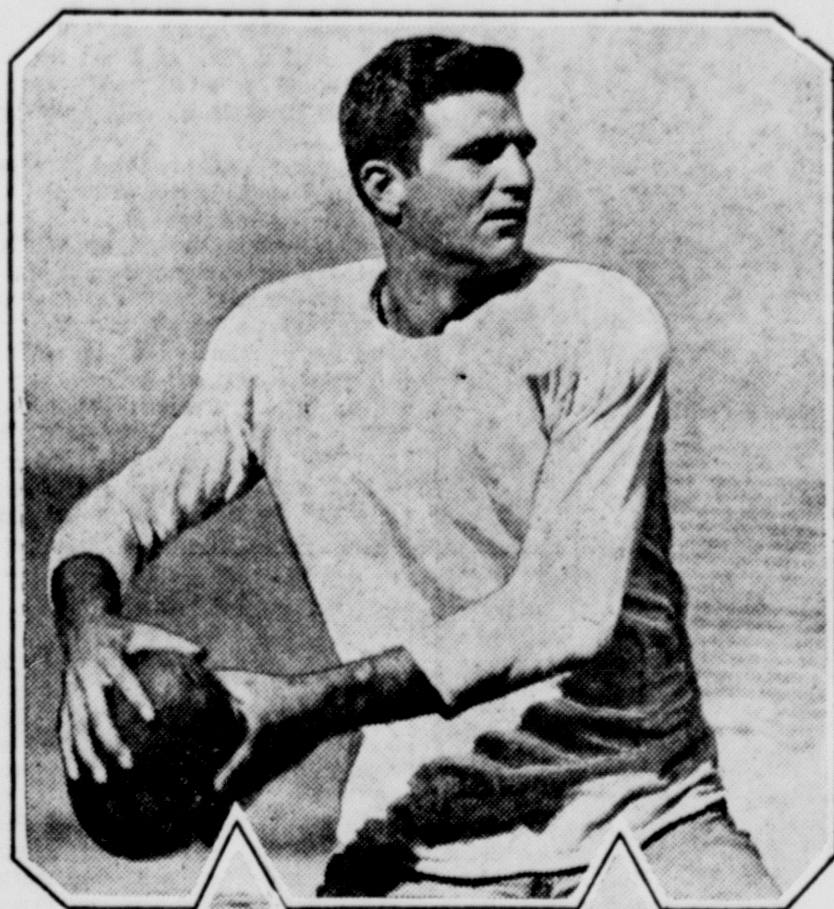

Dr. J. Howard Golden of Washington, D. C., will be a member of the business administration department beginning his work with the opening of the next session, September 14. Dr. Golden is now research advisor in the Federal Farm Credit Administration.

Receiving his bachelor degree from the College here in 1930, he went to the University of Missouri where he continued his study in the fields of business administration and agricultural economics. His doctor's degree was conferred by the Missouri institution in 1935 and he has been employed in the Farm Credit Administration continuously since that time.

During the long session, 1936-37, the classes in the business administration department totalled 782 people. President J. A. Hill has stated that changes which were begun when the board of regents instructed this college to grant the bachelor of business administration degree will be continued. The four years' work as now given follows the plan pursued by the best universities.

Mrs. Snirp: Congratulations, Mrs. Snaffle. I understand you have a model husband.

Mrs. Snaffle: Well, he may be a model husband, but he's certainly not a working model.

Football fans are casting their ballots these days for a "dream" team of collegiate all-stars which will play the Green Bay Packers, professional champions, in Chicago, Sept. 1. Among the stars of last year who are expected to draw heavy support in the voting are Texas Christian's great pass-throwing quarterback, Slinging Sammy Baugh, above with ball; Ed Widseth, below left, Minnesota's gigantic tackle, and Larry Kelley, below right, Yale captain and star end.

Max Starcevic, Washington; Bill Glassford, Pitt; John Lauter, Notre Dame; Inwood Smith, Ohio State, and Steve Reid, Northwestern, appear to be the outstanding guard prospects, with Gil Kuhn, Southern California; Mike Basrak, Duquesne; Walter Gilbert, Auburn; and Carl Ray, Dartmouth, leading the crop of center candidates.

The entire squad, when picked, will report at Northwestern University Aug. 14 to begin training.

New Rock Spillway Is Completed at College Farm

A new spillway constructed of native rock has been completed at the mouth of the College Farm lake under the direction of Gene Whitman, college campus employee.

The spillway is constructed of native stone placed end to end in such a way as to make one rock support another. A concrete dam four feet across at the top has been constructed entirely across the spillway.

This will help in keeping rises from washing out the spillway, and will raise the water level in the lake. T. M. Moore, acting head of the agriculture department, said.

Water in the lake on the College Farm is being used by the State Highway Nursery which is situated on the College Farm.

Mrs. Cox Is Elected Chairman of New Rating Board

Mrs. Bob Cox was elected chairman of the newly organized officials Rating Board at its initial meeting Friday night. The board was started through the efforts of Miss Hazel Evans of the women's physical education department.

Other officers elected included Mary McCaslin, vice chairman; Lena Head, secretary, and a committee composed of Miss Evans, Lena Head and Mary McCaslin was appointed to work with the chairman on writing the constitution of the organization.

This winter the board will give examinations to any one who desiring them, and will give local ratings to referees. Schools in the district will be urged to employ these rated officials in athletic contests. Officials will be rated in basketball, tennis and perhaps swimming. National ratings for the officials will not be obtainable until the board has been functioning for a year.

Even though schools do not want to use the rated officials, it is possible that they will wish to make use of the clearing house for rules interpretation which will be conducted by the board. Any questions regarding rule interpretation may be sent to the board, and the answers will be quickly forwarded. Also, any coaches of girls basketball or any other girls' sport who wishes to do so, may come and take the tests to be given to the board. Men are not excluded from taking the tests, but they are not encouraged, since the tests were designed for women.

Charles: I had a funny dream last night. I dreamed I was in South Africa. Diamonds were lying about me everywhere.

Elsie: Did you see any as small as the one in the engagement ring you gave me?

Wife: James, how do you like my new hat?

James: Well, my dear, to tell you the truth—

Wife: Stop right there, James. If you're going to talk that way about it, I don't want to know.

Kansas Farmer Harvesting 'Hoppers

T. G. Schweiger of Lenexa, Kan., above, used every means at his disposal to combat the grasshopper plague on his farm, which like hundreds of others throughout the midwest and southwest, was in the path of a vast horde of the insects. The contrivance shown here is a 12-foot sled which is dragged over the field. As the sled approaches, the 'hoppers' try to leap over it, hit the backboard and drop into a trap containing an old mixture that kills them.

NEWS

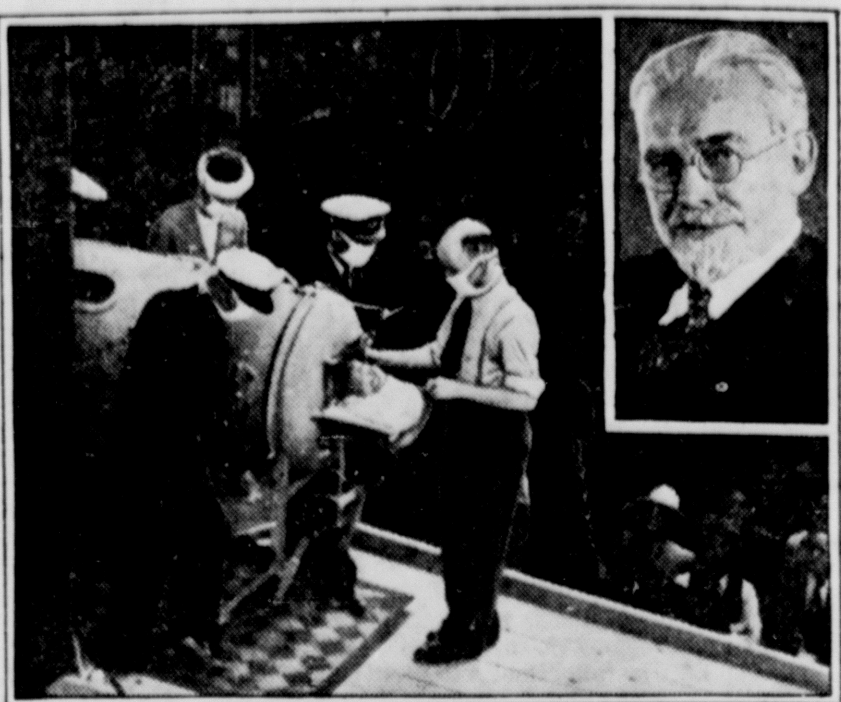

A Scotch subaltern was one day on guard with another officer at Gibraltar, when his friend fell off a precipice and was killed. The subaltern, however, made no mention of the accident in his guard report, but left the addendum, "Nothing extraordinary since guard mounting," standing without qualification. Some hours afterward the general demanded an explanation.

"What do you mean, sir, by reporting, 'Nothing extraordinary since guard mounting,' when a fellow officer has fallen down a precipice four hundred feet deep and has been killed?"

"General," said the lieutenant, slowly, "I dinna think there's aething extraordinary in that. If he had faun doon a precipice fower hunnert feet deep and nae been killed, that would hae been something like."

Science Battles Infantile Paralysis

NEW YORK, N. Y.—As humanitarians of two continents cheer one of the most dramatic fights medical science ever has waged to preserve a life—the case of Frederick B. Snite, Jr., infantile paralysis victim who faces seven years in an iron lung—hope that the long battle for control of the disease may be nearing success is expressed by those engaged in research.

Aided by funds from the President's Birthday Ball Commission for Infantile Paralysis Research, Dr. Sidney David Kramer, of the Long Island College of Medicine, reports hopeful tests for prevention of the disease with nose sprays conducted on monkeys.

Members of the commission are Colonel Henry L. Doherty, chairman; Jeremiah Milbank, vice-chairman; Paul de Kruif, secretary; Edward S. Harkness, treasurer; Mrs. Nicholas Brady, John S. Burke, Edsel B. Ford, Lessing Rosenwald, and Felix M. Warburg.

During the past four years the National Birthday Ball for the President have raised more than $4,000,000 for the fight against infantile paralysis. Colonel Doherty has been national chairman of the movement since its inception.

Tramp: No, ma'am, I ain't dirty from choice. I'm bound by honor. I wrote a testimonial for a particular soap once and promised to use no other.

The one-ring circus was visiting a town in the hills. The folks there recognized all the instruments of the band except the slide trombone.

Champion Louis Swaps Gloves

World champion Joe Louis doesn't confine his strenuous activity to the prize ring as the photo above shows. Joe backs a colored softball team in Detroit known as the Brown Bombers, and frequently swaps his boxing gloves for a first baseman's mitt while holding down the initial sack. Although Joe isn't a very polished fielder, he can whale the hide off the ball when he steps into the batter's box.

CENTIHAM

A young wife went into a grocery store and said: "I bought three or four hams here a month ago and they were fine. Have you any more of them?"

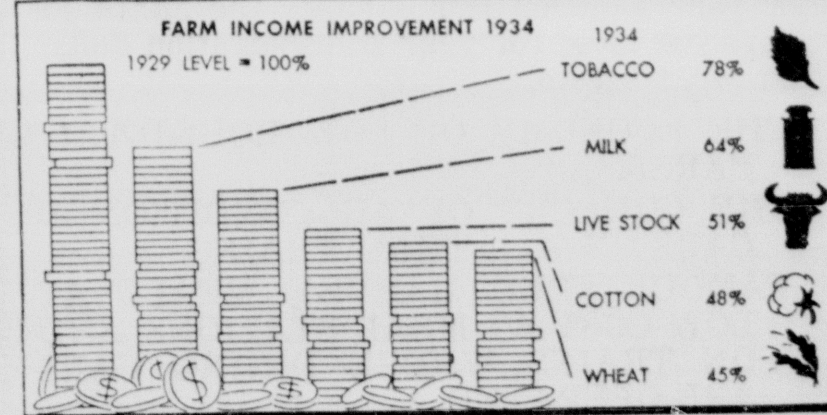

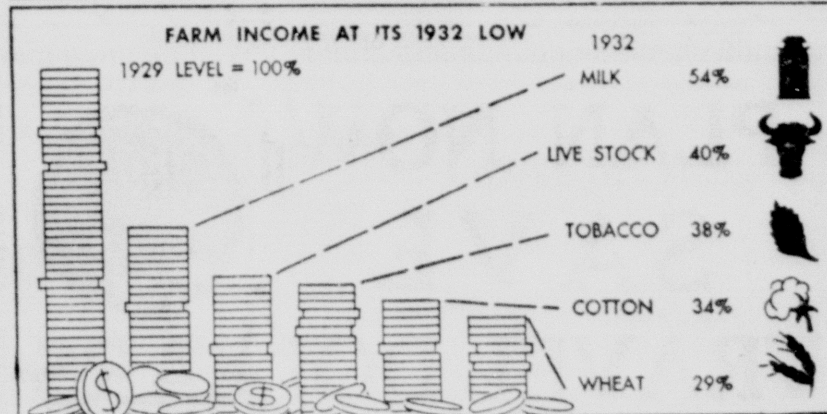

"Yes ma'am," replied the grocer, "there are ten of those hams hanging up there now."

"Well, if they're off the same pig, I'll take three of them," said the customer.

Two women, injured in a railway accident, brought suit for damages, which is a bit confusing. It might have been more to the point to ask for repairs.

MILK INCOME DEPENDABLE

THE FARMER'S INCOME

Milk Industry Foundation Chart

Milk proved a more dependable source of farm income during recent years than most major farm products, according to the Federal Trade Commission's recent agricultural income study.

During 1932 when gross farm income sagged to its lowest point, dairy farmers received 54 per cent as much for milk as in 1929. Farmers received only 40 per cent of the 1929 total for livestock, 38 per cent for tobacco, 34 per cent for cotton and 29 per cent for wheat.

By 1934 when gross farm income recovered substantially, milk was well ahead of other major farm products with a gross of 64 per cent. Livestock was 51 per cent and wheat 45 per cent. Only one non-food crop was higher—tobacco at 78 per cent of the 1929 figure. Cotton was 48 per cent of the pre-depression income.

From 1929 to 1934, the average income to the producer from milk held up better than any farm product reported.

Pioneer Hall Receives Numerous Historical Contributions Recently

A large number of contributions of historic value have been recently received by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum. Cases in the new basement are being filled by Mrs. C. Stuart Johnston and Floyd V. Studer.

The register at the desk in Pioneer Hall indicates that nearly four thousands persons have visited the Museum during the last six weeks.

The largest of the recent contributions are a group of Indian relics given by Dr. Goettsche of Higgins. This gift includes an Indian war drum and handle made by "Walking in the Night," Indian dance whistle used in ceremonies, Indian Comb made of Porcupine quills, medicine guard with tassel, head-dress and bustle from the Cheyenne Indians, two feathered arm decorations, gambling game from the Cheyennes, eagle tail fan, Cheyenne medicine horn, scabbard and knife, powder horn, a saddle made by a 16-year-old Cheyenne boy, arrows with steel points used in killing big game, snub nose arrows, Cheyenne squaw moccasins, Cheyenne bag with beaded fringe and strings attached made of rawhide, comb case made by Mrs. Amos Chapman, and a gourd used by the Indians for drinking.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reinkin of Plainview donated a chain coat of mail which is of hip length and weighs 22 pounds. It is assumed that the armour was worn by one of Alvarado's men on an expedition from Mexico to Santa Fe.

A Spanish bridle bit which was found on the Turkey Track Ranch near the Canadian River by Leonard Jordan in 1929 has been added to the Museum collection.

A Spanish bridle bit found with a gun and skeleton of a man in the bank along a small stream in Ochiltree County has been presented by Sam Handley. Another bridle bit has been presented by R. B. Gist that is supposed to have been brought out of Mexico at the time of Madero. A Spanish bridle bit bought at Maco, about sixty miles south of Chihuahua City, Mexico, has been loaned by E. Dowlen.

Part of a gun and other relics found in an Indian grave east of Tascosa, have been acquired by the Museum. They were dug up in the L. I. T. pasture in 1887 by Frank Mitchell. A buffalo gun shell and an alligator hide have also been loaned by Mr. Mitchell.

Is Building the World's Most Monstrous Dam Across the Columbia—Grand Coulee

Dense clouds of smoke fill the sky, and hissing jets of steam pierce the air daily, as huge cranes and excavators swing into action on the Coulee dam site. The striking photo above captures the full spirit of the Coulee project.

COULEE CITY, Wash. — The staccato rat-tat of compressed air drills; the creaking of gigantic winches; the muffled roar of exploding dynamite charges; the dull, steady throbbing of powerful pump machinery—

And 4000 toiling human beings, appearing almost microscopic against the setting in which they work.

That's Grand Coulee, the colossal engineering project which, when finished, will be the largest dam in the world. More than that, it will be the largest man-made structure of all time, surpassing even the Great Pyramid of Egypt.

Since time immemorial, man has found it to his advantage to harness the power of nature and the elements, and today as an army of laborers swarm over this huge dam-site, engineers visualize the greatest possibilities for hydro-electric power in North America.

Rising at the north end of a weirdly beautiful natural setting, Grand Coulee is a chasm carved by the Columbia river in a prehistoric age. It is 50 miles long, two to six miles wide, and varies in height from 600 to 800 feet. Ninety-two miles west of Spokane, the project itself is in the hands of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation, Department of Interior, and the cost of construction is expected to exceed $260,000,000.

What then are the facts behind its inception, and the benefits to which it will give rise? This is the picture:

When farms first sprang up in the Columbia river basin during the settlement of the great northwest, the land was fertile, crops were plentiful and rich. And then the rainfall dwindled, fell off to nothing. Agriculture in the territory became "dry-farming." The farmers themselves became known as "dust-eaters," and for good reason. Today, there are 1,200,000 acres of arid but potentially fertile land waiting to bear crops again—when Grand Coulee is finished.

Although the immediate need for the huge dam is a source of water supply, three purposes are evident. They are:

1—To irrigate the entire Columbia basin for farming.

2—To provide thousands of kilowatts of waterpower for industrial use.

3—To act as key unit in a 10-dam exploitation of the basin proposed by United States Army engineers.

On July 27, 1933, the PWA appropriated $63,000,000 to start work, and on Sept. 25, 1934, the signal to go into action was given. As a result of the tremendous undertaking, cities and towns mushroomed overnight in the area.

Largest of these communities are Coulee Dam and Mason City.

where the greater part of the laborers reside.

Nor is theirs a rough makeshift form of life. Neat, model homes have been built. Complete electrification and modern conveniences have been installed, and facilities for recreation and relaxation have been developed to the utmost.

Actual work on the project assumes tremendous proportions. To cite a few examples:

1—Grand Coulee will be 500 feet high, 4300 feet wide, 500 feet thick at the base and 36 feet thick at the top.

2—Sixteen million cubic yards of dirt and rock will be excavated.

3—Eleven million two hundred thousand cubic yards of concrete will be poured (enough to build a solid column as large as a city block and almost twice as high as the Empire State building).

4—It will impound waters of the Columbia river to form a lake 151 miles long, holding 5,000,000 acre feet of water, the deepest spot of which will be almost 300 feet.

Several years will be needed to build Grand Coulee dam. Several years will pass before this vast store of water and power is marshalled for use for hundreds of miles around.

Only then can the result—the time and expense involved—be measured.

Red Cross Swimming Tests Passed by 73 Canyon Children

Seventy-three Canyon children were enrolled in the "Learn to Swim" campaign which was completed Thursday with 33 passing their beginners swimming test and 46 passing their swimmers test.

The 12 lessons which were given the children were made possible through the local unit of the American Red Cross. Postmaster Guy Harp is the local county chairman, and Miss Ivey Howard who had been sent to the Red Cross Training school, at Eureka Springs, Ark., by the local unit is in charge of the class. Mrs. Bob Cox and Jimmie Holsten did much of the teaching.

The beginners who passed the test and received red, white and blue badges on which the word "Beginners" appeared had to be able to jump into water over their heads, swim 25 feet, turn and return 25 feet.

Those who received swimmers badges had to be able to tread water, float motionless, dive, swim 100 yards, swim 50 feet on back using legs only and surface dive in 6 to 8 feet of water and recover an object from the bottom. They also witnessed the demonstration of artificial respiration.

Those passing the beginners test were: Carol Hughes, Edward Le Gendre, Lee Roy Moreland, Robert Bellah, James Thomas Harp, Billy Gano, Robert Laughery, Tom Knighton, Albert Hunter, Bob Ziegler, Joe Ziegler, Margaret Hughes, Ida Martha Pierle, Charlene Henderson, Thomas Thompson, George Black, Howard Boling, Donnell Foster, Wayne Wirt, Jackie Cooper, Tommie Thomlison, Scott Vaughn, Jess Burns, Junior Anderson, Ernest Margow, Willis Chriswell, Stuart Condron, Arthur Chambers, T. Milk money is CASH

Milk money represents the community pay roll in thousands of towns, a dependable income for millions of farmers.

Milk and milk products must be sold so that cash can flow back to dairy farmers and their communities week after week and month after month.

This is a job Borden knows how to do, for behind Borden are 80 years of experience in handling and selling the most perishable of food products. Dairy farmers producing for a Borden company, know that a Borden milk check means dependable income.

8 EXTRA POUNDS OF RUBBER

TAPPING RUBBER TREES ON FIRESTONE PLANTATIONS IN LIBERIA. From these plantations come an ever increasing supply of rubber. Firestone saves in producing raw materials, manufacturing and distribution to give YOU more for your money.

Another Reason Why FIRESTONE GIVES YOU SO MUCH Extra Value at No Extra Cost

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS—eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. By this process every fiber in every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber. This counteracts dangerous internal friction and heat that ordinarily destroy tire life.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES—because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING—because the tread is scientifically designed.

YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread.

Before leaving on your vacation trip, join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard Tires—today's top tire value.

WOMEN KNOW VALUES

AND THEY WANT TO ALWAYS OBTAIN THEIR "MONEY'S WORTH"

WHEN MAKING A PURCHASE

—That's why so many refuse to buy from transients. They know there is no "come back" on the out-of-town salesman who is here today and gone tomorrow.

No man-made product can be unfailingly perfect. The best of manufacturers at times have sub-standard products; the keenest merchants make errors of judgment in buying; unforeseen defects will creep into good products, and unintentional mistakes will occur.

And it is just such things that give your local merchant the opportunity to show his fairness and eagerness to make good—to rectify and satisfy the unguarded customer.

When you buy from the transient salesman you can't go back and meet him "face to face"—he's gone. You can't find him and he surely won't seek you.

Jones Bill

visions of the proposed "agricultural adjustment act of 1937" sponsored by the American Farm Bureau Federation and endorsed in principle by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.

The measure was proposed in response to President Roosevelt's call for legislation to stabilize farm prices and incomes and assure consumers a stable food supply.

Jones said he had discussed the measure with Agriculture Department officials, but would not say whether it had administration approval.

No sooner had Jones laid the measure before his committee than objections were raised by farm blocs insisting upon compulsory production control and price-fixing.

Advocates of the American Farm Bureau Federation bill introduced by Representative Flannagan, Democrat, Virginia, said they did not believe the Jones measure would be "effective" in "keeping production in line with consumption."

Likewise, Representative Elcher, Democrat, Iowa, leader of a group favoring legislation that would assure farmers cost of production, raised a point of constitutionality against the Jones bill.

"Like the old AAA, it purchases compliance and under the Supreme Court decision is unconstitutional," declared the Iowan.

BUYS HOME HERE

Army Considers New Headgear

Something new in summer millinery may be in store for Uncle Sam's soldiers if the tropical helmets worn by these infantrymen are found practical. Made of cotton, fiber, and leather, they are being considered to replace the old felt campaign hat. The troops shown are members of the 11th infantry from Fort Benjamin Harrison, stationed at the Pan American Exposition in Dallas.

HE'D SWIM AN HOUR

Old Farmer Tightmoney wasn't exactly stingy but mighty economical. One day he fell into the cistern. The water was over his head and cold but he could swim. His wife, attracted by his cries, yelled excitedly down to him: "I'll ring the dinner bell so the boys will come home and pull you out."

"What time is it?" the farmer called up.

"'Bout 11 o'clock."

"No, dang it, let 'em work on till dinner time. I'll just swim around till they come."

Set New Non-Stop Flight Record
